RULE 45. FEDERAL RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, PARTS C & D:(c) PROTECTION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS

(1) A party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2) (A) A person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling of designated electronically stored information, books, papers, documents or tangible things, or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling may, within 14 days after service of subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to producing any or all of the designated materials or inspection of the premises - or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect, copy, test, or sample the materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at any time for an order to compel the production, inspection, copying, testing, or sampling. Such an order to compel production shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection, copying, testing, or sampling commanded.

(3) (A) On timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it:

(i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance;

(ii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to travel to a place more than 100 miles from the place where that person resides, is employed or regularly transacts business in person, except that, subject to the provisions of clause (c)(3)(B)(iii) of this rule, such a person may in order to attend trial be commanded to travel from any such place within the state in which the trial is held, or

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter and no exception or waiver applies, or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) If a subpoena:

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specific events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, or

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA

(1) (A) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(B) If a subpoena does not specify the form or forms for producing electronically stored information, a person responding to a subpoena must produce the information in a form or forms in which the person ordinarily maintains it or in a form or forms that are reasonably usable.

(C) A person responding to a subpoena need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) A person responding to a subpoena need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or to quash, the person from whom discovery is sought must show that the information sought is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) (A) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

(B) If information is produced in response to a subpoena that is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has and may not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved. A receiving party may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. If the receiving party disclosed the information before being notified, it must take reasonable steps to retrieve it. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. For the purposes of this Subpoena, the following rules will apply: the singular form of a word includes the plural; any pronoun refers to the masculine, feminine, or neuter gender as the context requires; “and” and “or” are to be construed conjunctively or disjunctively, whichever is more inclusive; “all” includes and encompasses “any”; “any” includes and encompasses “each”; the use of a verb in any tense should be construed as the use of the verb in all other tenses.

2. All documents must be produced either in the order and in the manner that they are kept in the usual course of business or organized and labeled to correspond with the document categories set forth in this Subpoena. Whenever a document or group of documents is removed from a file folder, binder, file drawer, file box, notebook, or other cover or container, a copy of the label or other means of identification of such cover or other container must be attached to the document.

3. Each document and thing produced in response to this Subpoena must be produced along with any attachments or enclosures that have ever been attached to or enclosed with the document or thing at any time.

4. If You cannot produce any of these documents in full, produce them to the fullest extent possible, specifying clearly the reasons for the inability to produce the remainder and stating whatever information, knowledge, or belief You have concerning the unproduced portion.

5. If you cannot produce all of the requested documents, describe in detail every reason for any failure or inability to produce each of those requested documents.

6. If you cannot locate documents or things responsive to this Subpoena after the exercise of due diligence, state in detail the particulars of the efforts You made to locate such documents or things and the reasons for their unavailability. If such documents or things exist but are unavailable to you, state, to the best of your knowledge, where the documents or things are located, including the name, address, and telephone number of the Person who has them.

7. If any document covered by this Subpoena, or any portion thereof, is withheld by reason of a claimed privilege, a privilege log is to be furnished at the time that documents are produced, identifying any such document for which the privilege is claimed, together with the following information with respect to any document withheld, or any portion thereof: author(s); recipient(s); sender(s); indicated or blind copies; title of the document, if any; date; general subject matter; present location of all copies of such document; the basis or bases on which the privilege is claimed; and the request to which such document relates. Where a portion of a document has been withheld on the ground of privilege (for example, by redacting that portion of the document) the privilege log must identify the redacted document.

8. This Subpoena applies to all responsive documents in your possession, custody or control at the present time or that come into Your possession, custody, or control prior to the date of the production.

9. Except where the context otherwise provides, the relevant time frame for the purposes of Your providing document, things, and testimony in response to this Subpoena is from June 6, 1990 to the date of the completion of Your deposition (where a deposition is sought) or the date of production of documents or things (where a deposition is not sought).

10. You are not obligated by this Subpoena to produce again any documents or things, including source code, that You have already produced to Rembrandt or deposited into escrow in the Rembrandt v. Comcast Litigation, provided that You agree in writing that the Parties to the MDL Litigation may use the documents and things, including source code, so produced or deposited for all purposes in connection with all of the actions comprised in the MDL Litigation, subject to the terms and conditions of any Protective Orders in effect in the Rembrandt v. Comcast Litigation and in the MDL Litigation.

REQUESTS FOR THE PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND THINGS

Please produce the following documents pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 45:

1. Documents evidencing the existence and terms of any agreement between You and any of the Multiple System Operators or the Broadcasters concerning the sale, purchase, lease, or other supply of ATSC-Compliant Devices.

2. Documents identifying by model number or other distinguishing mark all of the ATSC-Compliant Devices that You have sold, leased, or otherwise supplied to one or more of the Multiple System Operators and the Broadcasters.

3. Documents evidencing the prices at which the ATSC-Compliant Devices were sold, leased or otherwise supplied by You to one or more of the Multiple System Operators and the Broadcasters.

4. Documents evidencing the volume (by number) of ATSC-Compliant Devices that You sold, leased, or otherwise supplied to one or more of the Multiple System Operators and the Broadcasters.

5. All Documents comprising Communications between You and any of the Multiple System Operators and the Broadcasters relating to the ATSC-Compliant Devices.

6. All Documents comprising Communications between You and any of the Multiple System Operators and the Broadcasters relating to the MDL Litigation.

7. Documents evidencing the manner in which and extent to which any ATSC-Compliant Devices are or have been used by any of the Multiple System Operators or the Broadcasters or any of their customers in connection with the operation of any cable or broadcast television network by the Multiple System Operators or the Broadcasters.

8. Documents evidencing the manner in which and the extent to which the ATSC-Compliant Devices supplied by You to any of the Multiple System Operators or the Broadcasters have been used for reception and/or retransmission of digital television signals, including, without limitation, requests for proposals, schematics, specifications, and/or Documents concerning compatibility of the ATSC-Compliant Devices with any television network operated by any of the Multiple System Operators or the Broadcasters.

9. Documents evidencing the structure, function, and operation of the ATSC-Compliant Devices, or any software or hardware components used in such devices, including whether and how the ATSC-Compliant Devices or their components transmit, receive, encode or decode ATSC-Compliant Digital TV Signals, including, without limitation, Documents related to encoding of Reed-Solomon symbols, Trellis encoding, interleaving algorithms, modulation, demodulation, Viterbi decoding, decoding of Reed-Solomon symbols and de-interleaving algorithms utilized within the ATSC Compliant Devices.

10. All software and firmware (including source code) utilized in the ATSC-Compliant Devices (and any ASIC or other integrated circuit used therein) to transmit, receive, encode or decode ATSC-Compliant Digital TV Signals, and documentation describing the design or function of such software, including, without limitation, software related to encoding of Reed-Solomon symbols, Trellis encoding, interleaving algorithms, modulation, demodulation, Viterbi decoding, decoding of Reed-Solomon symbols and de-interleaving algorithms utilized within the ATSC-Compliant Devices.

11. Documents, including all license agreements, evidencing the royalty rates paid by You to any Person for the right to make, use, sell, or import any ATSC-Compliant Device from September 7, 1993 to present.

12. Documents, including all license agreements, evidencing the royalty rates paid to You by any Person for the right to make, use, sell, or import any device compliant with the ATSC Digital Television Standard, from September 7, 1993 to present.

13. All Documents relating to the development and your involvement in the development of the ATSC Digital Television Standard, or any related standard.

14. All Documents relating to any evaluation by You of the ATSC Digital Television Standard, or any related standard.
